William Macmillan, engineer in charge of the project, said that construction will begin immediately and he added that the initial 2½ miles of roadway would be completed in about one month if good weather prevails. The complete project calls for six miles of hard surfaced roads.

Pierre Hathaway, assistant program director of WTAR, addressed the Workshop of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach October 28 at the Community House.

Mr. Hathaway, who played for two years at the Pasadena Playhouse, worked in pictures, traveled with a repertoire company out of Omaha, Nebraska, and has had other varied experience in theatrical as well as radio work, discussed the theatre in its past and present forms, and particularly the Little Theatre and its functions. He praised the organization of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach for having in key positions four prominent Virginia Beach business men.

He pointed out that the final success of the show falls on the shoulders of the actors, who must interpret the lines so as to hold the interest of the audience. Every audience is different, and the plays are selected with this in mind.

Mr. Hathaway followed his talk with a question period, and also told amusing incidents from his own experience.

MORE VOTERS—BETTER GOVERNMENT

Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County citizens are to be commended on the turnout for the General Election this week. One of the largest votes ever cast in the Nationals in Princess Anne County was recorded this year.

It is not the actual results but the fact that more people have taken an interest in their government that made this a good election. Without an actual popular vote our election system is not adequate. It is not the voice of the people. Good government is government "of the people, by the people, and for the people." This government, to be a good government, must be the voice of the majority.

The people of Princess Anne County are taking an increasing interest in governmental affairs, consequently the people of the county can expect a proportionately increasing trend toward good government.

ELECTION IGNORANCE

It is amazing to note that there are many people who vote in Virginia Beach who seem quite ignorant of the voting procedure. There were too many ballots disqualified because of improper marking. An X in the square preceding the name of your preferred candidate is sufficient. There were a number of ballots thrown out because the voter indicated more than one choice for president. In several cases there were votes eliminated when more than one Senator or Representative were chosen. Instructions on the ballot clearly state "Vote for One" in each category.

Though the local election judges were rather liberal in determining the intent of voters whose ballots might have been considered mutilated, there were a number disqualified when pencil marks were evident in more than one box. We can see little or no excuse for an improperly marked ballot. It seems to us that any person qualified as a voter should be considered intelligent enough to follow simple instructions.

BUY AT HOME

Since its beginning, the Town of Virginia Beach has been a growing community. Not only has the residential populace increased, but also the year-round business facilities have more than doubled. The local residents seem aware that these merchants are here when an emergency arises or when there is donating to be done. However, many seem to forget their existence when they think of shopping.

Many people do not realize that most businesses buy their merchandise on the same market at the same price. The label on the article, in many cases, determines the retail price. Economy, as a reason for shopping out of Princess Anne County, is a rather flimsy excuse. Comparison has proved, in at least a dozen cases, that local prices are lower.

Some have complained that stores elsewhere are more conveniently located. More convenient to what? Virginia Beach can afford the shopper one feature that is unique in any shopping district today. That is adequate parking facilities.

Limited supply? We overheard one comment that last year one department store out of Virginia Beach had 12 electric trains all running at the same time, and in all the local stores together there weren't but two. Is this a fair comment when this same shopper reduces the local potential volume by going to the out of town store to buy? How can he expect the merchants of the town to display variety when there is no assurance of customer volume?

YES! VIRGINIA BEACH HAS IT TOO! If the people of the town will stop and remember who contributed to the Community Chest, who donated prizes for the Halloween party, who pays the majority of the taxes which maintain the town, then maybe they will also remember that Virginia Beach Has It Too.

In the same vein we note that local merchants have been successful in changing the Virginia Beach page from Saturday to Wednesday in the Norfolk afternoon paper. No doubt some of the local business men believe the two advertising outlets in Virginia Beach to be inadequate, consequently they go elsewhere to buy advertising.

BACK DOOR TO SOCIALIZED MEDICINE

In a strongly worded resolution, unanimously passed at its recent convention in Akron, the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons urged medical schools to refuse Federal aid, on the grounds that it would open the back door to socialized medicine.

The Association fully recognizes the need of more money for medical schools in these days of high costs. But it believes funds should be raised by campaigns among private sources.

There is certainly plenty of justification for the fear that Federal financial support of medical schools could be the prelude to socialized medicine. Once the government gets a financial stake in any enterprise, it tends to dominate it more and more. The bureaucrats in charge are always exceedingly zealous in advancing their own prerogatives and powers. And he who holds the purse-strings is usually able to call the tune.

The Association of Physicians and Surgeons is combating socialized medicine for two specific reasons. First, it believes it would result in inferior medical care. Secondly, it would have an exceedingly damaging effect on the national economy. New Zealand, for instance, is now spending 40 per cent of all government revenue on its socialized medicine scheme—and it still has deficits, and it hasn't been able to deliver all the promised benefits. The resolution pointing to the dangers inherent in Federal financial domination of medical schools is exceedingly timely.

Forestry Program Stressed for Virginia

"More Trees for Virginia" is the name of a project starting in this state this month—and well named it is.

Not only is the forest resource of Virginia a major factor in our agricultural and industrial life today, but also it probably holds greater promise for future development than any asset we have. Of our 26 million acres, 14,832,000 are in forestland. Our growers of trees are paid over $38 million for the timber they harvest in a single year and many thousands are employed in the more than 3,000 wood using industries in the State.

These are impressive facts. Yet it has been repeatedly estimated that our production of wood is only half of what it could be under reasonable management. This is the lesson the "More Trees for Virginia" project seeks to hammer home to every citizen, particularly to every landowner. Forest management means more dollars in the pockets of everyone who has tree-producing land. It means more money for forest industry payrolls. It means more money for public purposes as well as private. Virginia Forests, Inc., composed of the wood using industries and public agencies, is sponsoring this program. It is performing a service of inestimable value to the entire State.

Growing Trees Vital to Virginia

Residents of Virginia have reason to take more than casual interest in the More Trees for Virginia project now being conducted in this state by all interests, private as well as public, concerned with our state's forest future. Of the 26 million acres in Virginia, 14,832,000 are in woodlands and of these woodlands 47 per cent are in farms and 35 per cent in other small holdings.

This program tells us that our woodlands are working at half capacity. We can double wood production with better management and better protection by giving our timber crops proper care and consideration. So important is this problem that a national association of forest industries, known as the American Forest Products Industries, has joined with Virginia Forests, Inc., in presenting the forest facts of life to our citizens in accordance with a plan expected to have permanent results of substantial benefit to everyone from woods owners to workers in sawmills and pulp and paper plants.

An interesting booklet, "Cash Crops from Virginia Woodlands," is being mailed to all landowners, which tells part of the story.

Deer Hunters Take Note—Bag Limits Listed By Quinn for 1948-49 Season

I. T. Quinn, executive director of the Commission of Game and Inland Fisheries, has submitted an explanation clarifying bag limits on deer, as set out by statute, for the 1948-49 hunting season.

The bag limit is one buck deer a season in all counties having an open season. The following counties have a bag limit of one deer a day, two deer a season, with the following provisions:

Amelia, Charles City, Chesterfield, Dinwiddie, Greensville, Isle of Wight, James City, Nansemond, New Kent, Norfolk, Princess Anne, Southampton, Surry, and Sussex, South only:

Caroline, Cumberland, Essex, King and Queen, King William, and Middlesex, deer of either sex; Halifax, one of which may be a doe;

Prince George, one of which may be a doe during first 15 days of open season.

Mr. Quinn said that Virginia sportsmen are appreciative of the fact that the Commission has uniformly sought to maintain hunting seasons as long as possible in keeping with sound conservation practices. Efforts to keep the kill within a reasonable take of the annual surplus have been confined largely to regulation of the daily and seasonal bag limits rather than reduction of the numbers of shooting days.

"The privilege of choosing his hunting days at his own convenience throughout a long hunting season has been greatly cherished by the average Virginia hunter," he said. "As a rule, a man will hunt only a given number of days of the year, whether it be in a long season in which he can choose his own opportunities, or in an abbreviated season in which he has to rearrange his business affairs in order to do his hunting."

"There are individuals in almost all communities who hunt every day, whether the season is short or long, and these men always get more than their share of the game, but the majority of hunters kill no more game in a long season than in a short one. As the game is thinned out late in the year, most native species become more and more adept in taking care of themselves. While the gunner enjoys the hunting, he is content with lighter bags."

The director pointed out that it has been pretty conclusively proven in various states that very little more game is killed in a long season than in a short one. This is particularly true of deer. The remarkable fact has been noticed in a number of instances that the annual kill of deer averages about 20 per cent of the number of deer present, in states where the seasons are long and in other where the seasons are short and the hunting pressure is intensified in a brief period.

The Bobwhite quail and the ruffed grouse are two native species which are particularly successful in eluding the hunters when they have been heavily shot. Wildlife technicians designated to all out the quail in an area for scientific purposes have found it exceedingly difficult to accomplish this. They can kill out most of the birds in the coveys with comparative ease, but the remaining few are almost impossible to find and exterminate.

"Virginia's climate is normally mild and due consideration is given the convenience of the men who love to hunt in setting the length of the hunting seasons," he said. "The cherished privilege of roaming the fields at the hunter's own wishes is regarded as the important in this State. Seasons are shortened, or abolished altogether, only in cases where emergencies exist in brood stocks."

Daily Does 'Em

by Daphne Daily, Special Correspondent, VPA News Service
 (Editor's Note: The following is a correspondence from Daphne Daily, Special Correspondent of the Virginia Press Assn. News Service, who is making a tour of England, Scotland, France, and other places of interest this Summer. The following is from Holland.)

Amsterdam—This September still sees war scars in Holland. There are ghost trains on sidings and bomb marks at Rotterdam. Rationing remains, and clothing is not plentiful. A money black market is in the streets. Yet the Dutch persistently continue the rebuilding. Grass grows again on land reclaimed from sea and man. The windmills turn. Volendam fishermen in full-sail trousers and wooden shoes haul home their catch of eels. A new queen has the cares and burden of office and empire for whatever faces an uneasy world.

The problems and worries were put aside for a little while in the Jubilee week celebration. Amsterdam was blazing with color—royal orange, Holland's red, white and blue and flowers beyond any count. Into this capital poured great and small, natives and tourists to share in week-long festivities marking the 66th birthday of Queen Wilhelmina, the 50th anniversary of her reign, her formal ceremony of abdication and the investiture of Juliana as queen.

The beloved Wilhelmina's birthday on August 31 in particular seemed to permit the Dutch to offer all their personal regard and perhaps joy for an opportunity for festivity after grim years. From early morning until late at night Dam Square was a mass of people as gay as the music and decorations. Six ever green trees were topped with gilt crowns and ribbons with red, white and blue. A gigantic crown at the war memorial was flanked with illuminated trees.

Surrounding buildings were festooned with orange lights. Streets to the hub of the square were decked with flags, bunting and mor. crowns. Orange marigolds were everywhere, in garlands, in flower boxes, in store windows. Portraits of the queen and by 1920-1946 achievement reviews, in bicycles and jeeps, in labels and on hats. A stray alley cat even had an orange ribbon around its neck.

The Queen and Royal family responded early in the day to persistent calls from her subjects. She received the songs of some 18,000 school children and American chorists, attended a pageant at Olympics Stadium and was moved by cheer and first-hand carnival stunts did a rushing business in herring, eel and ice cream. Somehow streetcars continued to move, but at intervals mounted police plowed a path and cleared view-seekers from the tops.

For the American tourists in our group these events meant using all available film in any kind of camera. We felt we had seen a people pay magnificent tribute to a queen, perhaps goodbye to an era.

We like the idea of husbands insuring their wives against poverty, but the huge population of wealthy widows at expensive resorts makes a man wonder whether the idea isn't being overdone.

Oven-baked desserts can be cooked along with the roast to save time and fuel. Banana-Coffee Souffle, one of these, is nourishing and flavorful. Melt 2 tbsp. butter in a saucepan. Remove from heat and stir in 3 tbsp. flour. Gradually add 1/2 cup strong coffee, 1/2 cup milk and cook over low simmer flame stirring constantly until nicely smooth and thick. Combine 1/2 cup sugar, 4 egg yolks, gradually stirring these into cooked mixture. Add 3 mashed medium-sized bananas. Beat 4 egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold into banana mixture. Pour into 1 1/2 qt. soufflé dish which has been buttered on bottom only. Bake in slow gas oven (325°) 40 to 45 mins. Serves 6.

The most reliable buyer's guide to gas appliances for the home is the Seal of Approval of the American Gas Association Testing Laboratories. For example, nearly 600 tests and requirements must be met on a gas range before it can be produced and sold to the homeowner.

If your biscuits burn on the bottom and still remain rather pale on top, your baking sheet may be too large which tends to hold the heat from the burner at the bottom instead of radiating around the oven evenly. There should be at least one inch of space between the baking sheets and all four sides of the oven.

Hot butter and syrup makes a richer-tasting spread for waffles. Add 2 tbsp. butter to 1 cup extra-sweet corn syrup, heat until butter is melted, then serve hot.

As soon as baked potatoes are cooked, cut them cross-wise on the top to keep them fluffy. Add butter and serve at once.

Father Brennan Relates Story of Gift of Statue

Rev. Philip F. Brennan, pastor of the Star of the Sea Catholic Church, has told for the first time the story of the gift of the statue of St. Rita of Cascia.

He said that the statue, which now adorns the niche to the left of the entrance of the church, stood in Old St. Vincent's Hospital for more than 50 years. He pointed out that when the hospital was destroyed by fire the statue was blackened by the flames but was renovated and honored until the hospital was vacated in 1944.

When the Sisters of Charity were moving all their portable possessions to DePaul Hospital, they presented St. Rita of Cascia to Father Brennan, who had it installed in its present position.

Tracing the history of the Saint, Father Brennan said that Rita was born in 1381 in that part of Italy that gave to the world great saints like Benedict, Francis and Clare of Assisi. He said that she was a woman, whose life was one of devotion to God and despite the fact that she married "a devil in human form" she served the church through the harrowing time of his murder and the deaths of her sons.

"Vigil lights are always burning at her feet," Father Brennan said, and "Women are kneeling there whose married life is not as expected and whose hearts are heavy as lead. May St. Rita keep them and all of us who drink the chalice of Life's Bitterness."

Akers To Address Little Theatre Group

Dr. W. Gerald Akers, professor of Languages at the College of William and Mary, Norfolk Division, will address the Workshop of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach Thursday, November 11, at 8 p.m. at the Community House.

Miss Cora Lynn Chaffee, program chairman of the Workshop, says that Dr. Akers' talk will be the last of a series covering all phases of work in a theatre. Plans for production of two one-act plays will be discussed. These plays will be produced during the Christmas season. One will be for adults and the other will be a children's play, with child actors. The production of these plays will

Blackstone College Seeking Alumnae

Blackstone College for Girls is seeking to contact former students whose names have become lost from alumnae files, either through marriage or through a change of address. A drive for new memberships is being launched this month that will continue through the annual May homecoming day next spring.

All former Blackstone College students who have attended the institution since its opening in 1892, including those who were enrolled in the high school department, are urged to contact the college at once. Communications should be addressed to the Alumnae Office at Blackstone, Va.

Prior to the session of 1915-16, the college was known as the Blackstone Female Institute, but a junior college department was added that year and the name was changed.

ROCK, GAME FISH

Chesapeake area readers will be interested to know that the rock or striped bass has been made a game fish by legislative enactment in New Jersey, following a twelve year battle between the sportsmen and commercial fishermen of that state. Henceforth, the rock can not be taken legally from Jersey waters by any netting methods, although fish 18 in. or more in length may be sold by those who capture them.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

We've just come across a fine new club called the Drop on the End of the Nose Association. We were introduced to this group by Gordon MacQuarrie, Journalist and author of many outdoor articles.

Members are dedicated to espousing the cause of the sportsman's taken-for-granted friend—the common or wool-bearing sheep.

For years science reporters have been hinting that researchers are about to come up with something "better than wool." Well, maybe. But they haven't yet and the DENA doesn't think they will. The sheep family is still royalty and there's just no substitute for wool—especially on those late duck season days when there's a fast north wind.

There are sportsmen who "can't" wear wool next to my skin—makes me itchy." In most cases this is just a phobia, and if they really do itch, what's wrong with scratching? You may be crude, but you'll be warm, and comfortable.

Basic garments for cold-weather sports start with underwear which is all wool, spring needle knit, with full length sleeves and legs, and a high neckline. Suit yourself whether it shall be the two-piece outfit or the union suit. Now and then a store will come up with the old-fashioned two-piece red flannels, but don't be fooled by the light-weight kind used by many skiers. It's a good idea to wear a pair about four sizes bigger than your true size. The well-soaked man of rod and sun wears wool on his feet, often during both summer and winter.

If your enthusiasm for wool includes jackets, pants, mitts, caps, et al, the question arises: "How do you keep the moths out?"

The answer: Assign one closet in the house as the wool-closet. Clean, sun and air all woens thoroughly, hang or stack them away in this closet. Now, hang up as many perforated cans of—hang on—paradichlorobenzene as space affords.

It comes under various trade names, but somewhere on the container you'll find the real name. The crystals will in time evaporate and fill the closet with a gas fatal to moths. Comes cold weather, your flannels will still be "all" wool.

Lt. Lambach Now In Newfoundland

Lt. Paul H. Lambach, USNR, husband of Mrs. Claire W. Lambach, of Linkhorn Park, Virginia Beach, is serving with Fleet Aircraft Service Squadron 108 based at the Naval Air Station, Argentina, Newfoundland, with an operational background that ranges from the Caribbean to the North Atlantic.

A unit of Fleet Air Wing Five, the squadron is currently providing maintenance and shop support for Patrol Squadron Seven at the Argentina base.

Aside from routine duties, the squadron is often called upon to perform special missions. Recently, when a Greek merchantman ran aground in the Straits of Belle Isle and exploded, the Squadron assisted the Coast Guard by transporting patients to the hospital at St. John's, Newfoundland, using its Skymaster plane.

One critical look from a pretty girl will send a boy running to the barber, tailor, cleaner, and bathtub, thereby accomplishing in a second what his mother's pleas have failed to accomplish in fifteen years. This is humiliating to mothers, but pleasing to fathers.

Local Man on Navy Good-Will Cruise

Robert J. Miles, Stewardman, USN, husband of Mrs. Robert J. Miles, of Oceana, is now serving aboard the light cruiser, USS Huntington, now making a 16,000 mile good-will cruise of ports in Africa and South America.

The Huntington, accompanied by the destroyer, USS Douglas H. Fox, has visited Massawa, Eritrea; Mombasa, Kenya, and Durban and Capetown in the Union of South Africa.

From Capetown, she is scheduled to visit Buenos Aires, Argentina; Montevideo, Uruguay, and Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. The ship then will travel to Trinidad and is expected to return to the United States about December 8.

The Huntington left the United States in June and served in the Mediterranean three months before beginning her current cruise.

Jaytees Plan Christmas Dance December 18

Nativity Scene to Be Erected on Coast Guard Grounds

Dawson Taylor, chairman of the dance committee of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced proposed plans for a Christmas dance at a meeting of the Jaytees at the Town Hall Tuesday night. The group approved the proposal to hold the dance on December 18 in the Panorama Room of the Cavalier Beach Club. According to Owen J. Moore, president, proceeds from the dance will be used to defray costs of a Christmas project.

The organization, at its last business meeting, decided to sponsor a project to help decorate the town for Christmas. With the lighting program underway by the Trade Development Committee, the Jaytees will stage a Christmas scene. According to William E. MacDonald, E. M. Grey, executive officer of the local Coast Guard station, has given permission for the use of the station grounds and full cooperation of the members of his staff.

Maurice Simmons, of the project committee, has gotten information on installation of the scene. The plans call for setting up of the Nativity scene during the second week in December.

Sr. Woman's Club Members Hear Talk On Education

J. E. Old, vocational director of the City of Norfolk, presented a talk on "Trends in the Education of the World" at the regular luncheon meeting of the Women's Club of Princess Anne County held Tuesday at the Pine Tree Inn. Mr. Old said that the high schools of today had fallen down on the 85 per cent of its pupils who used the high schools as their terminal education.

New members Mrs. J. W. Mast, Mrs. E. B. Bruney, Mrs. Lawrence Lockwood, Mrs. W. B. Allen, Mrs. William H. Smith, Mrs. Robert Webb and Mrs. E. S. Duval were introduced to the club by Mrs. Frank Cox.

Community Spirit Aids Little Theatre In Many Ways

R. F. Trant, Sr., Donates Furnace For Workshop

Rehearsals for "Ladies in Retirement," to be produced by the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach at the Community House November 29-30, will move to the workshop at the Community House in a few days.

Joseph L. LaGiglia was appointed workshop house chairman by R. F. Trant, Sr., first vice president, who presided over the meeting of the executive board of the Little Theatre held Monday night at the Community House. Mr. LaGiglia was asked to take the job prior to this temporarily and to head the group of volunteers assisting E. Johnston Neal in his task of renovating the workshop. His first act was to secure the interest of R. F. Trant, Sr., in the plight of the Little Theatre in the matter of supplying heat for the workshop.

R. F. Trant, Sr., learning of the need of a heating unit, donated a Coleman oil burning floor furnace to the Little Theatre. Houston Gilbert has offered his furnace for the installation of the furnace, and R. Johnston Neal will do the necessary carpentry work. These civic-minded men typify the community spirit which is back of the Little Theatre.

There is much work to be done on the building, and the Little Theatre as a community project will welcome all donations of interest, time or materials. A ceiling, stage, and proper lighting equipment top the list of needed improvements.

Jerome Cargill, producer, met with the Follies committee last week to give advice on advance business direction. The producer stated that the group had developed a sufficient organization to put on an excellent show.

$500 In Bonds To Be Given By Local Store

"Just Call Me Sam," as he is popularly known, is giving away $500 in Series E Government Bonds to lucky winners. According to the operator there are no strings attached and all that is required is registration in the store.

Mr. Melnicove, a year-around resident of Virginia Beach, announced his plan in conjunction with the completion of his new show windows in front of the store on Atlantic Avenue. He also stated that plans are underway to enlarge the facility by adding 2000 sq. ft. of floor space. The store is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 9:30 p.m. for the convenience of anyone who wishes to register.

The Outlet Store, opened in May 1947, claims the largest stock of blankets and winter wear in this area. Mr. Melnicove said that buyers from as far as New York and Pittsburgh had been in to buy from his stock.

A tour through the wild flower preserve, which is maintained by the club, was made and after the meeting a picnic lunch was served.

Council May Consider Surgeon Report at December Meeting

The Virginia Beach Town Council this week passed on a new code regulation which will provide an extra safety factor for the town. The ordinance, pertaining to inflammables, deals with the use and storage of gases and fluids particularly.

Town Manager Lockwood, reporting to the council on the progress of the survey work on the seawall disclosed that the foundation boring contract had been let for $1,840. "It is hoped," he added, "that the work of the Surgeon firm will be ready for the council's consideration at the December meeting."

Mr. Lockwood reported that efforts were being made to revive and complete the erosion study which Army engineers abandoned about 18 months ago. Virginia Beach has already spent $3900 on the survey.

W. H. Terry, Jr., a spokesman for the council, reported the improvement of the local waters, appeared before the council and requested the body to pass a resolution certifying that there is no pollution from the town's sewage treatment plant and that, in the event there would be in the future, adequate steps would be taken to prevent it.

The resolution, Mr. Terry said, is necessary in order that the Federal government realize that the town is behind the movement and will cooperate with the proposed plans for the development.

It was further pointed out that in the past, the particular waters, Linkhorn and Broad Bays, had been condemned for the raising of oysters and that since the completion of the sewage treatment plant there had been no survey made of the waters.

The Federal government is reported to be interested in this phase of the development in that it is required to determine whether or not the benefits to be derived from the improvements will equal the money spent in bringing about the development.

P. F. Murray, commodore of the Cavalier Yacht Club, in inviting the town fathers to tour the area, said, "many of the residents of the Beach do not realize the size of the proposed undertaking."

"It will be the biggest thing that has happened to Virginia Beach," he said.

Mr. Lockwood also revealed that the audit of the town's records had been completed and that certain changes will be made in the bookkeeping system at Town Hall, in order to expedite the auditing at the close of each fiscal year.

He also advised the council that because of the large buildings now under consideration at the Beach, some revisions are necessary in the building code.

SOMEBODY IS GOING TO GET HURT

Among some of the more playful residents in the community we have a few who are asking for trouble. In and around Oceana there seems to be a group of pranksters who enjoy discharging firearms. The general practice seems to follow a set pattern. The culprits spot a likely victim, ride innocently alongside, then with a burst of gunfire, speed away. It is our understanding that people walking in Oceana have been "given the treatment" and it is our experience while going through the community in an automobile. We have been fired on.

Various reports have it that enlisted personnel, stationed at Oceana are responsible, while other reports incriminate high school students. We are making note of this in hopes that the guilty parties will realize the actual danger in this pastime and will, in the future, confine their target practice to the range.

THE SIGNIFICANCE OF ARMISTICE DAY

The significance of Armistice Day goes deep into the heart of this country. It marks our victory in the two most destructive wars the world has ever known. Of comparable importance, it should remind every American of the enormous human and economic wealth we have been forced to spend to maintain our liberties, and to defend those principles upon which the dignity of man depends.

Armistice Day should bring us another thought as well. This nation has never provoked a war. No people on earth is more peaceful in intention. None will do more to achieve a just and lasting peace for all countries. If ever we are forced to engage in war, it will be because we can find no other means of maintaining those rights and freedoms which make up the American tradition.

The United States must build and conserve its strength. That means, on the surface, that we must have a strong military force capable of dealing with aggressors, and a mighty industrial structure to back it up. But these things, vital as they are, represent a reflection of our strength rather than the substance of it. For the core of this nation's strength and power lies in the spirit of its people.

That spirit is the spirit of freedom. It is based on the knowledge that every American has inalienable rights which cannot be abrogated. The right to speak our minds, the right to own property, the right to engage in a business of our choosing, the right to be free of dictation by government—these and other rights constitute our strength. And that too is the significance of Armistice Day.

COMPETING WITH WAR

If—even during the height of the war—an entire division of men had been killed, and more than a corps had been maimed, the nation would have been shocked with horror.

Yet fire does that every year. It does it on a piecemeal basis, of course. But that does not make the total any less terrible. Close to 11,000 lives a year are now given to it through carelessness and ignorance. And the toll of the maimed and burned and crippled is about 50,000. Its depredations are especially great among small children, many of whom become lifelong invalids.

Early in October, the nation celebrated Fire Prevention Week, as it does each year. A vast amount of work was done during the week to awaken the country to the menace of fire, and to teach us how fire may be prevented. But if the public works on the "out of sight, out of mind" basis, the Week will not bear full fruit. Fire prevention to be successful, must be carried on day in and day out. It must become a routine part of living in all homes and all places of work. It must be as automatic as eating and sleeping.

When that is accomplished, fire's toll of death and injury will be cut enormously—to say nothing of a property loss which has been costing us more than $700,000,000 a year.

THERE'S A LIMIT

One wonders just how far the Federal government can go in supporting the citizens of this country.

According to the Chicago Journal of Commerce, one out of every six adult Americans is now receiving money from the U. S. Treasury. This includes Federal employees, war veterans and dependents, retired civil service employees, social security beneficiaries, and so on. And the total tends to steadily increase.

If those who wish to extend social security to cover every possible human financial problem from the cradle to the grave have their way it won't be long until the Federal government will supply all or part of the livelihood of practically everyone in the country. The drive for compulsory sickness insurance is a good example of that possibility. Theoretically, it would be paid for by a payroll tax. Actually, in the view of experts, the proposed tax would be inadequate, and heavy appropriations would be necessary to make up the deficits. Then, on top of that, it would create one of the largest bureaucracies in the government to handle the administration of the measure. Thus the army of regular Federal tax-eaters would be swollen once more—and once more the taxpayer would dig into his depleted pocketbook to pay the bill.

Social security, indeed, can be made so costly that it would destroy the security and future of everyone. We have gone a long way toward that point.

PATRONIZE OUT OF TOWN MERCHANTS

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

New York—Every individual operating a store or small business is conscious of the fact that the current boom can't last forever.

However, there is no need for him to believe implicitly in any "Gloomy Gus" economist who finds it easy to prove that manufacturers and retailers are "pricing themselves out of the market."

Such grim oversimplification is belied from time to time by surveys that disclose the enormity of current purchasing power, savings, and reserves. For instance, a Wall Street brokerage house, Baker, Weeks and Harden, has just completed a report on liquid savings. This shows that people and unincorporated businesses had currency and bank reserves of $123.3 billion at the beginning of 1948.

This is a rise of $82.2 billion or 187 per cent from the holdings of $46.1 billion recorded at the beginning of 1940.

Perhaps this rise of 187 per cent in liquid savings, which is the sheerest kind of purchasing power, explains why the automobile industry has such a backlog; why the travel business was so good this summer, and why sales in retail stores have held up surprisingly well.

Until figures begin to show that consumers are draining on their reserves in order to meet their demands, it is probably premature to state that a recession of any kind is inevitable in the next six months or so.

THINGS TO COME—Fluorescent-type sunlamp is said to develop five times the ultraviolet ray output of incandescent lamps of similar wattage and to make it possible for several persons to take sunbaths under the same fixture at the same time. . . . Electrically heated mattresses are next. . . . Portable clothes drier is housed in a suitcase. The suitcase is placed on its side near a wall outlet and an electric cord is plugged in to activate a heating unit. Clothes are placed on folding racks that are pulled up from the interior of the suitcase.

Plastic-faced hammer with same striking power as a similar machinist's tool won't mar aluminum or other light metals. . . .

Power wheelbarrow operates to four miles an hour either forward or backward. . . . New cereal is made of dried prunes. . . .

Space-saving plastic hanger for women's clothes holds skirt, slip, slacks, two belts and a jacket at same time. . . . New 35mm. still camera is said to justify its $703 cost by moving film automatically and by taking 15 action photographs in one burst, at the rate of one a second. . . . Dress kit includes four used flour sacks on which a design has been printed. It is possible to make a dress in any one of 21 furnished patterns for less than $2.

State Forester Dean Says Forest Service Alerted for Danger

The Virginia Forest Service has been alerted for immediate action if forest fires occur during the hunting season this fall. State Forester George W. Dean has announced that more than a hundred of the State's forest fire lookout towers will be manned at the opening of the November 20th season, and that forest service personnel in all counties will have their crews and equipment ready, if needed.

More than twenty per cent of all Virginia forest fires are caused by hunters, especially night hunters, according to Virginia Forest Service records. The State Forester feels that a relatively small number of men are careless enough to allow fire to escape. These few, however, are responsible for much destruction of game and forests, and bring discredit to their group.

In an effort to reduce fire occurrence, the forest service is conducting an intensive program of forest fire prevention. One of its most important phases is to acquaint hunters with the need for care in handling fire. Newspaper items, posters, personal contacts, leaflets, special letters, radio items and talks to group meetings are several of the many ways being used. Also enforcement of forest fire laws brings the message home to many careless violators.

The state forester points out that the elimination of forest fires is one of the biggest steps toward abundant game. Fires kill countless animals and destroy food and cover vitally needed by those which may escape the flames. Every hunter knows of good hunting areas which have been reduced to barren waste-lands by fire.

Care and forethought can prevent forest fires. A few simple rules to remember are as follows:

1. If you must smoke in the woods, stop and sit down. Use extreme care in extinguishing your pipe and cigarette ashes before moving on.
2. Clear away any leaves and grass before starting a campfire or warming fire. Down and cover all ashes, be positive they are dead out.
3. Smoking animals from dead trees is unlawful. Don't be guilty of this destructive practice.
4. Burn after 4 p.m. on calm, damp days. Keep your fire small.

SPOTLESS ADVERTISING

Showmanship pays off in business as well as in entertainment. A New Yorker, for example, has built up a highly successful restaurant chain through the simple trick of having a white-capped chef stand in the window all day long, frying ham and eggs. The crowds stop all right. Then they find themselves looking into a sparkling clean dining room and a large kitchen distinguished for its use of sanitary ceramic tile. The entire gall back of the ranges and grills is finished with tile, and even the ceiling over the cooking area has a veneer of that material. Since few things appeal more to Americans in a restaurant than high sanitary standards, many outsiders end up by going in and getting a meal. Thus, an enterprising businessman combines showmanship with sanitation to attract more trade and increase profits.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Business planning for 1949 depends a good deal on armament spending. . . . The U. S. government still offers a $10,000 bonus to anyone who finds a lode of rich uranium ore. . . . The domestic wool clip this year will be the lowest in 25 years.

Prospects for lower meat prices are brightening. . . . Nearly half of all non farm families in the nation are home-owners. . . . Unemployment has dropped below 2 million. . . . The long period of slow trading on the New York Stock Exchange has begun to affect the morale of some brokerage firms.

THE HIGH COST OF "Something for Nothing"

John Doe thought it would save money to keep the handling of his estate "in the family." No fees to "outsiders."

His widow and children paid a fee, nevertheless — and a heavy one. It was inexperience, lack of skill, indecision and disharmony translated into dollars.

True economy would have been to select an institution engaged in the business of executorship; to pay its fair price for service.

We will estimate what our charges would be, for your estate, upon your request . . . will do so gladly, and without obligation on your part.

Pre-planning a part of any meal is a wise precaution when you're busy. Banana Cream Torte is an interesting dessert and can be prepared the day before to save time the regular meal-hour rush. Combine 2 1/2 Graham crackers (2 cups) rolled fine with 1/2 cup softened butter or margarine and 2 tbsp. sugar. Blend well. Press 1/2 of crumb mixture firmly against sides and bottom of well-buttered pan. For the filling prepare 2 pkgs. prepared vanilla pudding with 4 cups milk following directions on package. Cool and pour into crumb-lined pan. Slice 2 bananas over top of pudding. Beat 3 egg whites stiff but not dry, adding 1/2 cup sugar gradually. Spread meringue over bananas. Sprinkle remaining 1/2 crumb mixture on top. Bake in gas oven (350°) for 20 mins. Chill overnight before removing from pan. Serves 6 to 8.

In most Japanese homes, a small stove under the tub heats water for bathing. In this country, an automatic gas water heater holds the hot water to the necessary 105° for a refreshing hot bath.

When broiling grapefruit halves, top them with apricot jam, spiced sugar, or Brazil nuts and brown sugar. Add dots of butter before putting them about three inches under medium flame.

Winter weather doesn't bother the owners of gas laundry dryers. All they have to do is put the wet clothes into the dryer and sit back while the clothes dry to a soft fluffiness.

New flavor for pudding sauce: To basic recipe add 2 tbsp. orange juice, 2 tbsp. grated orange rind. Beat until smooth. Sprinkle with orange rind just before serving.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

To Dunk or Not To Dunk?

Dunking doughnuts is Sober Hopkins' favorite morning pastime... and for a long time Ma Hopkins has been trying to break him of the habit. Puts it onto a bad example for the children.

So one morning she puts a heavy frosting of chocolate on the doughnuts... figuring that will stop him. Sober thinks it over for a while and then: Dunk! Taste! Smile! And Sober compliments the missus on the lovely mocha flavor!

I guess there'll always be two schools of thought: to dunk or not to dunk. But from where I sit, it's a matter of personal choice and taste—like some folks prefer beer to cider, ale to beer. And the less we criticize those differences of taste, the better.

In fact, Ma Hopkins got so curious about the flavor of chocolate-covered doughnuts dunked in coffee, that she tried it herself. Now— you've guessed it—she's a daily dunker, too!

Soil-Cement Streets

...new engineering development assures better, more economical light-traffic streets for your community

Use of Soil-cement for streets is increasing rapidly every year. It is based on the discovery that when you mix cement carefully with roadway soil, and compact it, you have a strong, durable pavement for light traffic. The method, though scientific, requires only simple, inexpensive equipment. Laboratory tests determine the exact proportion of materials needed—usually about 10% of cement to 90% of soil.

Agronomists Sponsor Tech Scholarship

A scholarship grant for freshman students will be sponsored, beginning with the fall term next year, by the V. P. I. agronomy club, Frank Gardner, of Hillsville, club president announces.

The amount of the grant has not been definitely set, Gardner said, but it probably will be $100. He said it is being offered to stimulate the interest of high school agriculture students in agronomy.

The scholarship, to be financed with funds raised by club activities, will be offered to a new student each year, Gardner said, on the basis of academic attainment and demonstrated ability and interest in agriculture, especially agronomy. To qualify, a student must have participated in agriculture and crop projects in high school.

Local Men Participate In Joint Operation Of Service Forces

Two Virginia Beach, Va., men, Comdr. Gaylord B. Brown, USN, of 2412 Mediterranean Ave., and Loyd L. Lukes, aviation chief machinist's mate, USN, of 11th St., have participated in "Operation Combine III," a mock war, conducted in Northwest Florida. Operation "Combine" is the largest joint effort of the Army, Air Force and Navy since unification.

The Navy contingent, operating from Barin Field, Ala., and representing an imaginary government similar to that of the U. S. called "Namora" screened Air Force planes in attacks on the mythical country of "Deluvia" while other Navy fighters and dive bombers attacked troop concentrations, motor columns, road blocks and railroad trestles. Students of Navy, Air Force and Army schools observed the maneuvers.

Highway Department Announces 24-Hour Schedule for Newport News-Norfolk Ferries January 1

Highway Department Announces Upward Revision of Rates

Richmond—A 24-hour operating schedule will be provided on the Newport News-Pine Beach (Norfolk) ferry beginning January 1, the State Highway Department announced today. Round trips will be scheduled at 90-minute intervals between 1:30 and 4:50 a.m.

At the same time, an upward revision in commercial vehicle rates will go into effect on both the Newport News-Pine Beach and the Willoughby-Old Point Comfort runs, the department said.

Round trip passenger vehicle fares will be eliminated in the new rate schedule, but the sale of commuter's tickets will avoid a round trip rate increase for local traffic.

New commercial vehicle rates, ranging between $1.25 and $3.00 will be based on the space occupied by a vehicle aboard the ferries. Present rates, ranging between $1.25 and $2.50, are determined by manufacturer's rated vehicle capacity.

The basic one-way passenger vehicle fare will remain at $1.25 for car and driver, but the $1.50 round trip rate will be eliminated. To serve local traffic at no increase in cost for round trips, commuter's ticket books will be sold with each one-way ticket costing 75 cents.

The department said present rates are providing insufficient revenue to carry out necessary improvements now contemplated.

Linkhorn Garden Club Hears Talk on Plant Fertilization

Guest speakers at the November meeting of the Linkhorn Garden Club, held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Meredith on Linkhorn Bay, were C. B. Mitchell and G. G. Bradshaw, local representatives of Swift and Company.

"Putting Plant Food to Work" was the subject for discussion, which was presented by the use of a sound, colored motion picture. "Proper fertilization and care and caution taken in the application of plant food are essential factors which result in a good garden and harvest," Mr. Mitchell said.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. James U. Goode, president of the club. Visitors introduced at the meeting were Mrs. C. S. Shuford, Mrs. Val W. Morgan, Mrs. J. B. Bell and Mrs. Robert Poynter.

In the arrangement contest, blue ribbons were awarded to Mrs. Guy Capps, Mrs. F. L. Waite and Mrs. Ernest Stone. Red ribbons were presented to Mrs. W. B. Meredith, Mrs. C. M. Hinkamp and Mrs. J. H. Proudfoot, III.

Judges for the arrangements were Mrs. James U. Goode, Mrs. George T. Mullen and Mrs. Guy Capps.

The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Capps on Pinewood Road for their next meeting.

NOTICE

The Presbyterian Men's Club will meet Tuesday, November 20, at 7:00 p.m. William Kellam is in charge of the program.

NOTICE

In accordance with our practice of past years, the Virginia Beach News will be published on Tuesday, November 23, for Thanksgiving week. All notices, advertising, and copy must be in the office not later than noon, Monday, November 22.

Henrys to Head Theatre Workshop Committee

Peggy Boukin to Play Ellen Creed in Ladies in Retirement

L. B. Shelly, president of the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach, announces the appointment of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henry as co-chairmen of the Workshop Committee, to fill the unexpired term of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Marer, who have resigned.

Joseph LaGiglia, Workshop House Chairman, announces the addition to his committee of E. A. Darden, Virginia Electric and Power Company electrical engineer, who will handle electrical problems of the Little Theatre Workshop.

Blanche Wilding, Melba McCaushey, Emilie Green, Eunice Pidgeon have been added to the Costume Committee under Martha Hofheimer.

Peggy Rumble Boukin, a newcomer to the Virginia Beach Little Theatre, will play the part of Ellen Creed in "Ladies in Retirement," the mystery play by Edward Percy and Reginald Denham to be produced by the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach November 29-30 at the Community House.

She has had a number of years experience in dramatic work, and has played varied parts in such plays as "Pure As the Driven Snow," produced by a theatre group here at Virginia Beach during the war; at Converse College in South Carolina, she played in "Eve of St. Mark," and in Thornton Wilder's "Skin of Our Teeth." She also played the part of Peter in "Peter and the Wolf," produced for the Spartansburg, S. C. Music Festival.

After her marriage, Mrs. Boukin moved to Lexington, Va., and became a member of the Troubadours, under the direction of John Lanick, and played in "Petrified Forest," "Point Page," and in "Angel Street." She says that as part of Ellen, the thin-lipped spinster, whose love for her "pottery" sisters leads her to desperate lengths for their protection, is the most difficult one she has played, as it requires an austerity which is not hers by nature, and an age which she is far from attaining.

Others in the cast are Cora Lynn Chaffee and Dorothy Stanton, with college experience to their credit; Sue Marer, who toured the country with the Clare Tree Major players; George Garvin, who played in "George Washington Slept Here"; Nita McMenamin, and Faye Lee Green, the youngest member of the cast, whose excellent diction won her the part of Lucy, the maid.

Tickets for the two performances may be purchased at Shelly's, 25th Street.

VFW Auxiliary to Meet Monday

For information, telephone Virginia Beach 1263-J or 764.

Oceana Fire Dept. Annual Harvest Dance December 3

Wrestling—1st match: Jack Cule at 135 pounds vs. Glenn Dill at 135 pounds; 2nd match: K. Z. Bowden at 172 pounds vs. Jack Worton at 169 pounds; 3rd match: Worton Doss at 140 pounds vs. Bill Burrell at 140 pounds; 4th match: David Pidgeon at 150 pounds vs. Jim Standing at 150 pounds.

All competitors on this card are in excellent physical shape and have shown a marked improvement in tactics and science of the sports during their training period. We predict that this will be one of the finest and most spectacular shows of boxing and wrestling the boys of our community have ever put on," Mr. Moore said.

Meeting to be Held Tuesday at Cavalier Country Club

Robert F. Nelson, director of the Virginia Promotion Council, will be guest speaker at the regular dinner meeting of the Junior Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday night.

Mr. Nelson, born in Indiana, attended schools in many states during his early life. Following his school years he entered the newspaper field in St. Louis and during the first World War came to Virginia with the Richmond Times Dispatch.

Shortly after the formation of the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Nelson was employed by Colonel LeRoy Hodges to create a publicity department. He organized this department during 1924 and was then selected to head it. Since then he has given his full time service to publicizing Virginia.

Under his direction a continuing campaign to advertise the Old Dominion has been carried out during the past seventeen years.

During the years the Virginia State Chamber of Commerce, through the publicity department, has coordinated and aided in making more effective the work of numerous organizations that are helping to advertise Virginia.

Owen Moore, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, announces that the meeting Tuesday night will be held at 7:15 at the Cavalier Yacht and Country Club.

Oceana PTA Bazaar Exceeds Expectations

The $2,500 quota set by the members of the Oceana Parent-Teacher Association as a goal for the three day bazaar held last week has been exceeded, according to an announcement by Mrs. James G. Darden, president.

Bazaar committees, reporting at a meeting held at the school Monday, showed the net earnings to be $2,740.28. This money, Mrs. Darden said, will be used for the purchase of equipment and instruments for the school band, the establishment of a dental clinic, purchasing encyclopedias and magazines for the library, first aid equipment for each room of the school, and for the construction of playground equipment for the elementary school children.

Mrs. Carl Rau and Mrs. J. D. Murden, co-chairmen for the event, have expressed their appreciation to the merchants and committee chairmen for the fine work that was done in making the event such a successful one.

A JOY FUND FOR PRINCESS ANNE COUNTY

Last year members of the Presbyterian Men's Bible Class started a Joy Fund for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County. There was little organization and the few who did the actual work were forced to spend many hours on the job. However, the results were gratifying; the work done by these few netted the fund over seven hundred dollars cash. Through their efforts food and clothing was given and the merchandise purchased was bought at wholesale prices through the generosity of local merchants. Many needy families in Princess Anne County were granted a "Merry Christmas" because these men considered it their duty and privilege to lend a helping hand to their less fortunate neighbors.

Again this year these same men are anxious to spread Christmas joy throughout the County. With more time to consider needy cases and more time to gain the support of the people, we feel that a Joy Fund for Virginia Beach and Princess Anne County will fill a need that other charity funds do not meet. This year there will be more needy families to help.

A Joy Fund is not a drive—it is not a campaign of solicitation—it is the combined efforts of the many who wish to give, however small, in order that others may find a happier Yuletide.

COMMUNITY HOUSE

With the coming of winter and the prospect of bad weather, activities of the Community House are increasing. Residents of the Beach are working with the youngsters planning various recreational activities for the winter months. Though only the second year of its operation the various Center committees have made excellent progress toward an activity program. The athletic committee, under the direction of Joe LaCiglia, is planning boxing and wrestling matches, basketball games are played each Thursday night, and the Little Theatre Workshop is a veritable beehive of activity.

For a better insight, a tour of the facility proved just what was going on. On November 11, we stopped in and found the stage full of pupils being instructed in the finer arts of boxing and wrestling by the athletic committee; on the gymnasium floor Mrs. J. W. Wolcott was working out with two girls' basketball teams; the Veterans of Foreign Wars were meeting in one of the smaller rooms; in the kitchen a group of ladies was preparing refreshments for the VFW members; the gym club, under the direction of Mrs. Armentrout, was rehearsing, and the lobby was filled with youngsters engaged in reading, games and conversation.

From this veritable maelstrom of activity we can see that the youth of Virginia Beach is seeking wholesome recreation. With the facilities offered by the town and the efforts being expended by interested residents our younger generation of today has a better than average chance of becoming the outstanding citizen of tomorrow.

LET THEM GO BACK HOME

A Senate committee has a bill ready to present to the new Congress for increases in the salaries of more than 200 top-ranking Government officials. Washington newspapers say that "salary increases are imperative to arrest the exodus from the Government of prominent men attracted by high pay offers from private industry." We have been hearing that sort of bunk for a good many years. Let 'em go! There are endless numbers of "prominent men" that should be sent back home.

Ten thousand dollars a year for a Government worker is enough in most cases. There is an army of office-holders who are getting more money working for the Government than they could get if they had to make a living in private business.

MARGARINE

Good dairy butter is colored yellow. Just why margarine should not be yellow seems to be nothing more than bum politics. One great philosopher and poet hailed the "hallelujahs of yellow," and even Shakespeare reported in his "Twelfth Night" that a careless youth would "come to her in yellow stockings, and 'tis a color she abhors." Perhaps Alexander Pope had something on the beam when he observed that "All looks yellow to the jaundiced eye." If the dairyman is so particular about colors why shouldn't they let the margarine people have yellow, and change their own color to red, white and blue butter?

FACE AND FEET AS FIRST FRONTS

Once we read of a father who was about to paddle his small son for some trifle, when his eyes fell to the two little feet before him. Something about the innocent way they stood there, with toes turned slightly in, made him reconsider and plan another way to deal with his youngster.

And a woman we know told us the other day that she always stands a place at a person's feet first thing after an introduction. She thinks it is inexcusable not to have well shined shoes at all times. We must admit, too, that the time and cost of a dash of the shoe shine now and again isn't worth mentioning.

The Dutch covers his head, believing that no one can see him. And many think their face is their best front. It might be well to remember, though, that our shoes are showing, too.

Behind the Scenes in American Business

By Reynolds Knight

New York—Consumer research, which has always been practiced to some extent by American business, received a big boost in 1936 when George Gallup accurately predicted that President Roosevelt would win the election by 60 per cent of the popular vote.

This spectacular forecast established consumer surveys as a major industry. Because business men felt that they could believe in the validity of poll findings, every advertising agency worthy of the name soon established a market research department. It wasn't any time before a couple of hundred firms were engaged in "sampling" consumer opinion. Housewives were gravely asked to state their preferences in saps and household cleansers, and their answers went into reports that governed the expenditure of advertising budgets totaling millions of dollars. Automobile manufacturers gladly redesigned their cars on the advice that polls showed that motorists preferred such and such.

An entire philosophy was built on straw ballots. Since the recent election a dark cloud of doubt has gathered over the heads of the pollsters. The big question now is: will business men continue to put implicit faith in them? Only time can fill out this ooloot.

COW TO CONSUMER—Elections are sticking their fingers into the milk. But these are absolutely sanitary fingers, and their action keeps human fingers out of dairy products, so that in many cases they move untouched and even unseen all the way from cow to consumer.

Latest step in a fast-spreading use of such "hands-off" methods, according to Lloyd E. Slater, food-plastic so you can tell at a glance when it needs refilling. . . . After-like tools to repair sippers soon will be available for housewives. . . . Weatherstripping made of glass fibers can be thrust into place with a screwdriver. . . . Novelty paint brush is fed by a tube that alpha paint from the can through a hollow handle and into the bristles. . . . Plastic finish that can be "wiped on" to floors, furniture, and linoleum is said to be impervious to alcohol, boiling water, and acids. . . . Latest for nothens is a contraption that looks like a miniature replica of the rubber boats used during the war. When inflated, the device becomes a combination basinets, crib, bathtub and easy chair—and nakes traveling with a baby that much easier.

POSTSCRIPT ON REPEAL—Back in 1933, when America was determining to put an end to prohibition, proponents of repeal argued that the liquor industry would create jobs and yield tax revenues. Today, 15 years after repeal, figures on that are interesting. A report to directors of Schenley Distillers Corp. shows that this company alone employs about 13,000 persons and in those 15 years has paid out $2,315,000 in taxes, and $251,000,000 in wages, to say nothing of $49,625,300 paid in dividends to stockholders. There were additional company payments in the form of employee benefits and security. These included $14,000,000 to finance retirement income; $4,000,000 for life, health and casualty insurance, and $1,000,000 in military benefits for Schenley workers on wartime military leave. Some other economic pluses listed in the report were not even hinted at when repeal was being urged. One was the fact that the legal beverage industry's production facilities were channeled overnight to industrial alcohol during the war, making possible quick production of synthetic rubber. Another: distillers recovered substantial tonnages of feed by-products from processed grain to help boost production of meat, milk and eggs. Still another: 1948 finds the Schenley company a leading producer of penicillin and allied antibiotics. BITS O' BUSINESS—Purchasing power of farmers dropped to a six-year low in October. . . . One-half of all manufacturers questioned in a recent survey stated that they had to operate their plants at 70 per cent of capacity in order to break even. . . . Restaurant men list that declining trade prevents their passing lower meat costs along to the consumer. . . . Steel production this week is expected to be at the highest levels in the industry's history.

Gullies on County Farm Land Have Much Significance

R. W. Lane, chairman of the Princess Anne County Agricultural Conservation Committee, says we too often fail to realize the full significance of such things as gullies cutting across fields or muddy water on its way out to the ocean. City folks may see a gully as an ugly sight on the countryside, but how few realize that it has something vital to do with them—that it affects their food supply. The next time you notice a gully cutting across a field, stop long enough to consider just how far back that gully goes. It actually goes right back to the very shelves of your grocery store. For when it is eating away the food-producing topsoil of a farm it is taking care of peas, corn and tomatoes from your grocery shelves. It is reaching into bins of potatoes and flour, and making beef, pork and lamb scarce on your meat counter.

Did you ever think about it that way—that gully eating into your food supply and the food supply of those who will come after you? True, erosion control is the farmer's immediate problem, but the loss of our most valuable natural resource, our topsoil, is also everybody's concern.

Through the Agricultural Conservation Program, farmers are cooperating in preserving and recreating the country's source of food. By building terraces, contour farming, sod waterways, tile and open ditch drainage and other soil saving practices, the conservation-minded farmer is the nation's front line fighter against depletion of our precious resources.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Keating

There is no quicker way to judge an outdoorsman than by the way he cares for and uses his ax. Here's a check list, prepared by Writer Harold Rogers, so you can test yourself:

Keep your ax sharp. A dull ax is dangerous as well as useless.

Keep the handle tight. An ax with a loose head is as dangerous as a loaded gun.

Make sure that brush, branches or other obstacles are cleared away before beginning to chop. Secure a firm footing.

In cold weather warm your ax before beginning to chop.

Chop on a firm wooden block, and direct each blow toward the block.

An ax is not a hammer or a wedge. Don't use it as such.

When not in use, keep your ax sheathed and off the ground.

If you are purchasing your first ax, choose the single bit type. It is by far the best from the standpoint of both safety and utility for the average camper. The ax should weigh at least two pounds, and under no consideration should the handle be less than 24 inches long.

Ordinarily a new ax will have to be sharpened to give its best performance. To put it in shape use a wet grindstone, not an emery wheel. Start the grind back two or three inches from the cutting edge, making the grind semi-circular or fan-shaped. About one-half inch from the edge make a level down to the edge. Once you have ground your ax on both sides you will seldom, if ever, need to use a grindstone again. You can keep it in fine shape with a flat file and a sharpening stone.

When using the file never drag it back over the ax. Lift it up and carry it back before repeating your stroke.

Finally, to put a keen cutting edge on your ax, hone it with the sharpening stone, using a circular motion from heel to toe, then turn the ax over and hone it on the opposite side, this time from toe to heel.

NEWS OF BROWNIE SCOUT TROOP NO. 219

During the second week of February, 1944, a new Brownie Scout Troop was organized at Virginia Beach. A Brownie Scout is a "Junior" Girl Scout, ranging in age from 7 to 10 years. The troop was registered in the National organization of Girl Scouts and received its troop number. Troop 219 is sponsored by the South Virginia Beach Civic League. Fourteen girls are now members of the troop. Three adult members of the troop help the girls to carry out their Brownie Promise—"To help other people at all times especially those at home."

Although most of these Brownies are under nine years of age they already realize the importance and seriousness of this promise. The Brownies are encouraged to know and understand their city better. During the past month they have visited several plants at Virginia Beach and in Princess Anne County. They have also visited the Police and Fire Departments, where they were shown around the various departments. Last spring they planted bulbs donated by the King Floral Co. in trimmed tin cans, and carried them to the Marine Hospital in Norfolk. Whenever a festive day occurs, the Brownies celebrate it with a party. They have learned by studying a chart traffic laws for pedestrians. In their meeting they are taught songs, games, and handicraft work of all types.

They have recently completed a set of scrap books, which have been sent to a children's hospital in Bremen, Germany. At the present time the Brownies are making small stuffed animal toys, which will be sent to the younger children in the polio ward at DePaul Hospital in Norfolk. The Brownies also plan to fill stockings for underprivileged children at Christmas.

Miss Eva Mae Nee, District Director of Girl Scouting in Princess Anne County, gives her full cooperation to each troop of girls in the county. It is gratifying to note that Girl Scout work at Virginia Beach and in the county has increased tremendously in the past nine months.

Mrs. Harry L. Perkins is the leader of Troop No. 219. Mrs. H. W. Chassee is an adult member of the troop and is also the neighborhood chairman. Mrs. Albert Partridge is a Troop Committee member.

Remember, these Brownies will be your first citizens of this growing generation. The public is cordially invited to attend any of their troop meetings, which are held on Saturday mornings at 10:30 at the Virginia Beach Community House.

Members of the troop include Evelyn Partridge, Beverly Bayne, Barbara Ann Perkins, Virginia Simmons, Nancy Kern, L. Con

Wills, Patricia McCarthy, Judy Wills, Owen Foster. Civilian Secretary of the Navy, the Navy's sylvan, Irene Baum, Susan annual food needs were 1,600 rations. Linda Kay Patterson and bushels of beans and 12,500 pounds of butter.

(*You don't HAVE to order 4 items—but the rate is the same for 4 or 1)
An ITEM on your ORDER does NOT mean EACH PACKAGE. It means ANY NUMBER of PACKAGES of the SAME THING, or BRAND, of the SAME THING, up to a CASE of that particular PRODUCT. For example, if you ordered ONE (1) CAN of PET MILK that would be ONE (1) ITEM. If you ordered a CASE of PET MILK our service charge would be NO MORE for a CASE than for a CAN. BUT if you ordered, for some reason best known to you, ONE FULL CASE and any number of CANS up to a 2nd CASE, those CANS, over and above the ONE case, would be considered a SEPARATE ITEM, up to a 2nd case, etc., and our SERVICE CHARGE would be determined by the NUMERICAL sequence of that ITEM, according to the foregoing table of SERVICE CHARGES. WE MUST set a LIMIT and DEFINE an ITEM at SOME point. THAT seems UNUSUALLY FAIR.

You can readily see from the above table of RATES that we will BuY and DELIVER to YOU as many as 20 ITEMS for only 35c; 30 ITEMS for only 40c, and as MANY as 50 ITEMS for only 45c. OR is you need just 10 ITEMS it will be only 25c—and JUST IMAGINE, 15c for 4 ITEMS, even if we have to get EACH from a DIFFERENT store. Furthermore WE GUAR-ANTEE OUR SERVICES TO BE SATISFACTORY provided, of course, THAT THE ITEMS FOR WHICH WE ACCEPT YOUR ORDER ARE AVAILABLE FOR PURCHASE AT THE BEACH AND THROUGH NO FAULT OF OUR OWN WE ARE UNABLE TO MAKE DELIVERY.

WE WILL BE OPEN and READY TO RECEIVE YOUR ORDERS
AT 8:30 A. M., MONDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1946

5. OUR OFFICE HOURS will be as follows:
8:30 A. M. - 5:00 P. M. DAILY, except Sunday.
10:00 A. M. - 11:30 A. M. Sundays only.
2:00 P. M. - 3:00 P. M. Sundays only.
7:00 P. M. - 8:00 P. M. DAILY.

6. OUR REGULAR DELIVERY SCHEDULE will be as follows:
(Special, later date)
11:00 A. M. - Daily, except Sundays.
12:00 Noon - Sundays only.
3:30 P. M. - Daily, including Sunday.
8:20 P. M. - Daily, including Sunday.

WITHIN a FEW days after our OPENING, we expect to have in the hands of each Virginia Beach family a PAMPHLET showing ALL of the above DATA, as well as more complete DETAILS regarding our PLAN (Deliveries, Office Hours, etc.) and HOW and WHY we NOT ONLY CLAIM but WILL PROVE that OUR SERVICE ENTERPRISE is for the ECONOMY as well as for the CONVENIENCE and TIME SAVING of the RESIDENTS of VIRGINIA BEACH. The LOW RATES should be CONVINING enough—and we WANT TO PROVE IT. IN THE MEANTIME, let us prove it by SERVICE!
IF YOU DON'T GET YOURS, CALL US and WE'LL DELIVER IT TO YOU, GU'ADLY, and WITHOUT ANY OBLIGATION on YOUR PART.

Beach Navy Officers Serving Aboard USS Missouri

Three Virginia Beach, Va., men, Capt. Roy Lee Johnson, USN, husband of Mrs. R. L. Johnson, of 404 52nd Street, Comdr. Haslett Paul Weatherwax, USN, husband of Mrs. H. P. Weatherwax, and Lt. Joseph Mason Campbell, USN, husband of Mrs. J. M. Campbell, of 308 26th Street, are serving with the staff of Vice Admiral D. B. Duncan, Commander, Second Task Fleet, aboard his flagship, the battleship USS Missouri.

The Second Task Fleet is holding tactical exercises in the North Atlantic in which approximately 100 ships, 30 aircraft squadrons and 36,357 personnel are participating. The operation is being conducted under actual wartime conditions and is designed to determine the limitations and capabilities of men and equipment under adverse conditions.

The exercises are covering an area from Norfolk, Va., to as far north as Davis Strait between Greenland and Labrador. An amphibious assault landing launched against the fleet base at Argentia, Newfoundland, November 8, was a highlight.

Extension Service To Aid American Cancer Society

To help farm people become more aware of the dangers of cancer, L. B. Dietrick, director, Extension Service, V. P. I., announced that the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Extension Service is cooperating with the American Cancer Society's educational program.

Mr. Dietrick disclosed that a recent national survey showed that farm people were the most poorly informed about cancer of all occupational groups.

"Farmers should have the same interest in fighting cancer as everyone else," he said. "Approximately 55,000 farm residents die of cancer every year. As many as 18,000 of these people could have been saved had they been treated in time."

Mr. Dietrick said that M. L. Wilson, director of Cooperative Extension Work of the Department of Agriculture, has asked the State Extension Services to cooperate with the American Cancer Society in every way possible in local programs of education.

In a statement from Washington, Wilson said, "In rural areas as elsewhere, too many people know too little about those early signs of cancer that would give them warning to visit their doctors in time. Getting these simple facts to lay people is one of the important objectives of the American Cancer Society."

In asking for local participation

State Forests To Be Closed to Hunters

Charlottesville—None of Virginia's State Forests will be opened to hunting this year, it was announced today. At a joint meeting of game and forest officials this week, it was decided that the game population, especially turkey, was too small to permit opening the forests to hunters.

Mr. S. G. Hoart, management chief of the Virginia Forest Service, stated that failure of natural food crops in 1947 and the extensive snows of last winter account for the low number of turkeys. It is felt that a "rest year" will permit the birds and other game to become re-established. This feeling has also been voiced by individual sportsmen and sportsmen's organizations in the vicinity of the forests.

Special wardens will be employed for the protection of these closed areas during the coming hunting season in order that they may serve as refuges for all game.

In the educational program, Mr. Wilson said, "The extension worker's job is to help farm people solve problems. Cancer is one of mankind's gravest problems. The Extension Service stands ready to cooperate with the medical profession and the American Cancer Society in every possible way."

The Naval Ordnance Test Station, Inyokern, Calif., roughly equals the State of Rhode Island in size.

Highway Traffic Mileage Goes Up

Traffic on Virginia's primary highways went up to an average of 11,477,844 vehicle miles daily during the fiscal year ended July 1, 1948, according to reports just issued by the State Highway Department.

Most congested spot in the State was Fairfax County, with an average daily travel of 590,063 vehicle miles. Far behind, but bunched for second, third and fourth positions were Norfolk County with 377,860 miles per 24 hours, Arlington, with 363,014, and Chesterfield with 338,747.

Princess Anne County, with a daily average of 256,502 miles, rated eighth in the list of 100 Virginia counties.

It's Your Fight, Too!

Bing Crowley was "boofing" the other day about all that Our Town's doing in the way of sending food and clothes to Europe. Bing felt that those struggling democracies should look after themselves.

But most agreed with Judge Cunningham who said: "So long as any family or individual in Europe is helping hold the line for freedom—against the forces of intolerance—it's common sense, and common decency, to help 'em."

Because that's everybody's fight: To see that individual freedom is preserved in every aspect, big or little—whether it's the right to vote, or the right to enjoy a temperate glass of beer or ale with friends.

And from where I sit, no liberty's too small to overlook. Because the minute one small freedom is threatened, all the others are in jeopardy—just as the minute one small country loses freedom, all its neighbors are in danger!

A NEW BRIDGE FOR LYNNHAVEN

This week residents of Lynnhaven requested the County Board of Supervisors to recommend to the Virginia Highway Commission a new bridge over London Bridge Creek. The bridge will facilitate a continuous route for heavy traffic through Lynnhaven to London Bridge thence to Virginia Beach. The present structure is inadequate to permit its use by heavy road equipment.

Members of the Lynnhaven Civic League have expressed the fear that lives of children in the area are being endangered by the traffic which is forced to turn in Lynnhaven. The regularly scheduled highway bus, with a conflictingly scheduled school bus has caused much concern. Twice a day school children engaged in boarding and leaving the school bus chance the hazard of a backing and filling highway bus.

Officials of the bus line have expressed their desire to cooperate with the local residents in alleviating the situation. The bus drivers have been most diligent in their efforts to avoid any mishap, how the danger is present and the most careful driver cannot foreward's thoughtless dash across his path.

A new bridge would be the ideal solution to the problem. Bridges are heavily today; perhaps another solution would be a loading platform for both vehicles, a change in the alteration of schedules may be a few minutes less than a bridge, might be forthcoming. In any event, whatever the cost, is of paramount importance. Time and money properly spent now may save a life that cannot be replaced later.

STRIKES AIN'T NO GOOD FOR NOBODY

It is easy to believe that the second Truman Administration will slow down on business controls and listen to the public demands for sane policies and legislation that should calm the perpetual rows that have for years disrupted the American economic situation. For instance, the corporate share of National income, before taxes, is up 13.7 per cent. Employees have lifted their National income sky-high. Strikes still muddle-up Uncle Sam—the same kind of strikes that F. D. R. won with a succession of shifts in his time. The Taft-Hartley Act corrects these unholly schemes for winning strikes, because the legislation legalizes amicable settlements, even to the point of providing ways and means by which individual workers and employers may carry their grievances to the courts and expect reasonable justice of all disputes.

In view of the facts it is safe to hope that any changes in the labor laws that are made under the leadership of President Truman will be improvements. That may mean corrections of the Taft-Hartley Act, corrections of the Wagner Act—and justice for the public. The principles embodied in the Taft-Hartley Act are sound sense.

Just as sure as you are born, our labor strikes are on the way out—because they "ain't no good for nobody." For instance, the present shipping strike will slow down the recovery of the Merchant Marine. It is featured in huge headlines as "the crime of the seas." The American shipping business was practically ruined before the blockade of the East Coast tied up ships on the high seas.

That strike calls for higher wages—which already has brought the American shipping business almost to the edge of total bankruptcy. Higher wages are always followed by higher prices—and the total is the higher cost of living. That is inconsistency.

LIKELY YOU DON'T KNOW ANYTHING ABOUT THE STOCK MARKET

Your correspondent has discovered "the missing link" who invested in the stock market a few years ago, after learning how to play the game. He is now living on the "top crust of the land" from stock dividends. Perhaps he is one in a hundred, or one in a thousand. I asked him quite a number of questions and found that he knew the game. The chances are that you and I don't.

MORE MILLIONS FOR OFFENSE AND FOR DEFENSE

Among important news that is given very little attention are references to the large amount of money that Uncle Sam will have to shell out for defense spending and foreign aid. There seems to be no end in sight of this mania to throw away our wealth.

There is going to be more business taxes imposed for more public works, and for financing housing, education, and backing higher minimum wages. All this wouldn't be so bad except for the fact that the American dollar buys only fifty cents of anything!

MUSIC TOPS CANCER

The American public spent over $100,000,000 for phonograph records in 1947, but only $12,136,875 was given the American Cancer Society to fight cancer.

In the two-year period ending September 30, 1944, the Officers Account Division of the Navy's Bureau of Supplies and Accounts wrote 567,552 checks for a total of $83,524,300.47.

As Others See It

November 12, 1948

Mr. E. D. Hubbard
Resident Engineer
State Highway Department
P. O. Box 59
Norfolk, Virginia

Dear Mr. Hubbard:

At the last meeting of the Princess Anne Civic Council held in the Glenrock Civic Hall November 10, 1948, a serious accident hazard was brought up by the Lynnhaven Civic League that was occurring daily in the village of Lynnhaven. The State Corporation Commission approved a route submitted by the Norfolk Southern Bus Corporation at the Rail Bus hearings of last year, allowing Buses to turn off Highway 58 into Lynnhaven, then through the village to Oceana by way of London Bridge.

The Secondary highway bridge, over London Bridge Creek, the approved route, was found to be too weak to allow safe passage for the Buses. Due to the weakness of this bridge, the Norfolk Southern Buses now come to the village of Lynnhaven, turn into Eureka Avenue, back up, crossing the Norfolk Southern Railroad tracks, then doubling back to the Virginia Beach Boulevard and going east to London Bridge, turning south into London Bridge then to Oceana, Seatack and Virginia Beach.

The dangerous hazard this creates in the backing up of these Buses. Vision on such Buses is limited; it is impossible for the Bus drivers to have a full, clear vision of everything in their rear. Twice daily the Norfolk Southern Bus arrives in Lynnhaven at the same time the School Bus arrives, dispatching or taking on approximately 31 children. These children are like thousands upon thousands of children throughout the country—thoughtless, fearless, and with one thought in mind, to romp and play. On several occasions injury, or perhaps death, has been averted through the noticeable vigilance and safety precautions taken by the Norfolk Southern Bus drivers. It is constantly feared that some day, one of the children will not be as fortunate as some have in the past and a child will be picked up dead or maimed for life.

THIS BRIDGE CAN BE FIXED BUT NOT A LIFE.

After these facts were brought out by the Lynnhaven group, the Princess Anne Civic Council appeared before the County Board of Supervisors at its meeting at the Court House Monday, November 22, 1948 to request the Board's aid in getting the State Highway Department to strengthen the secondary highway bridge over London Bridge Creek.

We would consider it a personal favor if you would offer any suggestions or help in securing the strengthening of this bridge. Respectfully yours,

B. C. SYKES, Chairman

New Tree Planting Scheme Tried By Va. Forestry Service

Charlottesville, Va.—A new tree planting scheme is being tried by the Virginia Forest Service. Evenly spaced "digger plates" are bolted to treads of a caterpillar-type tractor. It is then only necessary to drive the tractor over the area to be planted in order to obtain well-spaced planting holes.

Television on the Farm

Buck Childs' home has become mighty popular ever since he got that television set—one of the few sets in our town, outside of Andy's Garden Tavern.

Not only do the kids stay home nights, but the neighbors drop in to see whatever's being telecast. And Buck and the missus always make them welcome, with a mellow glass of beer or ale (with cider and cookies for the youngsters).

While I guess everyone admits that television still has far to go, it's not hard to see that it will some day be as much a part of American home and farm life as the temperate glass of beer that Buck serves, and the hospitality that goes with it.

And from where I sit, anything that adds to gracious living in America—brings folks together for temperate, quiet entertainment—is a boon to this home-loving land of ours. (We're thinking of buying a television set ourselves!)

Demonstrations of the Application Of Sodium Fluoride for the Prevention Of Dental Decay Being Given in State

"The response to the State-wide campaign for the prevention of dental decay is most enthusiastic," Dr. L. J. Roper, State Health Commissioner, announced today.

"In cooperation with the State and local health departments, a United States Public Health Service dental unit is carrying on in Virginia a demonstration of the correct technique for the application of sodium fluoride solution to the teeth to reduce new dental decay among children. This is not a home remedy; it must be applied by a dentist."

"Resistance to tooth decay can almost be doubled," further stated Dr. Roper. "If children receive a series of applications of sodium fluoride solution during the period when their teeth are coming in. However, it is essential that applications be correctly and skillfully applied if maximum protection is to be obtained. It is hoped that this preventive measure may become available to all children throughout the State. The purpose of this dental demonstration unit in selected communities of the State is to give local dentists an opportunity to observe the procedure and to help local communities establish a program of this kind."

"The dental unit demonstrating the correct application of sodium fluoride is to work in each section of Virginia comprising the eight component dental societies. At present the team is working in component eight in the Arlington district."

"Research carried on over a period of years in various communities throughout the United States has shown that where excessive fluoride exists in a natural water supply, persons have fewer decayed teeth than normal, but their teeth are mottled in appearance. These findings have led dentists, dental scientists, and laboratory investigators to the discovery that a small amount of sodium fluoride applied to the teeth will give a forty per cent reduction in tooth decay without causing discoloration. Teeth to which the sodium fluoride solution has been applied show forty per cent less decay than untreated teeth which continue to decay at the normal rate.

"These series of four applications should be repeated at intervals of three years to protect new teeth as they come in. Ideally, the first series is given at the age of three years. The last three fall at the ages of seven, ten, and thirteen years. The effectiveness of the treatment is not lessened over a period of three years. Just how long it will protect the teeth from new decay is still unknown."

"Fluorides mean longer lasting teeth and at least a forty per cent reduction in the number of cavities. Considered the most impor-

What is the meaning of Value?

The DICTIONARY, which is supposed to be RIGHT, gives, among others, the following:

1. To have in HIGH ESTEEM.
2. Intrinsic WORTH; UTILITY.
3. THE MARKET PRICE.

O. K.—So WHAT? Well, WE believe and are trying to find fault with the DICTIONARY, which is still supposed to be RIGHT, but which at the same time seems rather CONFUSING. For example, definitions (1) HIGH ESTEEM, and (2) WORTH; UTILITY, really seem APPROPRIATE when used in terms of VALUE. On the other hand, definition (3) with PRICES so HIGH and INFLATED today makes us WONDER just WHY the DICTIONARY defines VALUE as the "MARKET PRICE." IS THE VALUE of something to YOU what it's really WORTH and the HIGH ESTEEM in which you hold it or the HIGH and EXAGGERATED MARKET PRICE being ASKED and OBTAINED today?

Are you still saying SO WHAT? If so, here's OUR answer—and it's the BASIC FOUNDATION OF OUR BUSINESS! Practically EVERYONE to whom we have explained OUR PLAN establishing a MINIMUM CHARGE of ONLY 15c for BUYING and DELIVERING as many as FOUR (4) items, anywhere on the BEACH, says "You're CRAZY—you can get 25c just as easily as you can 15c—besides, 15c is TOO REASONABLE." Well, maybe THEY'RE RIGHT and WE'RE WRONG—but it's OUR DESIRE to give VALUE at ITS BEST—WORTH and HIGH ESTEEM—NOT at a HIGH and EXAGGERATED PRICE according to PRESENT DAY STANDARDS of GETTING ALL YOU CAN AT THE EXPENSE OF THE OTHER FELLOW. We ARE in business to SUCCEED and as PROFITABLY as we can, but NOT by GOING UP the PUBLIC, upon whom we DEPEND for our SUCCESS, to the TOP FENNY. We have set our MINIMUM charge, as well as the subsequent charges for more ITEMS, for the BENEFIT of MORE FAMILIES and are, as a consequence, going to HAVE TO WORK THAT MUCH HARDER to gain the VOLUME of business, along with "HIGH ESTEEM" and the "WORTH" of our services to our Customers, to PROVE our business a SUCCESS through "CONVENIENCE, TIME SAVING and ECONOMY to the RESIDENTS of VIRGINIA BEACH." O. K.?

If YOU didn't see our OPENING announcement in the VIRGINIA BEACH NEWS of NOVEMBER 19th get a copy NOW or CALL us TODAY for FULL DETAILS of OUR PLAN.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST REASON

for Thanksgiving ...

During the last war, G. I.'s scattered all over the globe learned first-hand that men in other lands think how blessed are Americans because they have the privilege of living in the greatest nation in the world.

It's true that every man has something for which he can be thankful. This is as it should be. Yet today there are millions who must look long and search hard for blessings sufficient to balance the day-after-day hardships under which they live.

Americans — all of us — owe to ourselves a solemn obligation to be, not smugly pleased with our lot, but deeply grateful for our nation's heritage, for liberty, for opportunity . . . and for the privilege of living as we do.

The United States itself is the world's biggest reason why we who live here have so much more to be thankful for than the less fortunate people in any other land in the world.

Little Theatre to Present Production November 29-30
Carol Simpson, director of the mystery play "Ladies in Retirement" to be produced by the Little Theatre of Virginia Beach November 29-30, reports that every phase of the production is running on schedule. With rehearsals in their final stages, a production of professional proportions has been whipped into shape.
"Ladies in Retirement" is directed by Carol Simpson; the set was designed by Ben McCleskey, built by E. Johnston Neal, Comdr. W. E. Kenna, Forest Brugh and William Sills, and painted by Chamie Grandy, Elizabeth May, Elizabeth Kenna and Anne Penington. Sam Poole is stage manager, assisted by Robert Henry.
Flossie Creekmore and Eileen Pimple are in charge of make-up; Martha Hoffheimer, Blanche Wilding, Melba McCaughey, Emile Green and Eunice Pidgeon are in charge of costumes; properties by Mattie Trant, J. Anne LaGiglia, Mary Jane Biley, Anne Henry, and Connie Mason.
The costumes, which have been loaned or made, are most picturesque. They have been corralled from the attics of Mrs. R. G. Barr, Sr., Mrs. Emmett Kyle, Mrs. William Thomson and Miss Elizabeth deWitt.
The cast of the play includes Sue Marer as Leonora Fiske, Faye Lee Green as Lucy Gilham, George Garvin as Albert Feather, Peggy Boykin as Ellen Creed, Cora Lynn Chaffee as Louisa Creed, Dorothy Stanton as Emily Creed, and Nita McMenamin as Sister Theresa, a Nun.
Mrs. Marer has had professional experience; Mrs. Boykin has had a number of years experience in amateur theatricals; Miss Chaffee and Mrs. Stanton have had college experience, and Mrs. McMenamin studies dramatics in New York City. Miss Green is a member of the Oceana Dramatic Club, and George Garvin appeared in "George Washington Slept
